Gessi, the designer of water

Gessi has been designing and manufacturing exclusive bathroom and kitchen fittings and furnishings for over 25 years. Today, the brand is acknowledged worldwide for its fashionable bathroom designs in all types of living environments, including hotels, spas, yachts and private residences. With total look designer creations ranging from brassware to advanced function shower systems, accessories, ceramics, baths and shower trays, Gessi has created a new style of quality living with design. Gessi's creations allow the users to enjoy personal spaces that offer a daily Private Wellness® experience in which they celebrate a renewed contact with the inner self. Gessi's philosophy of Private Wellness allows the bathroom to overcome its traditional function as a functional place without aesthetic relief, to become a style and a regeneration room. Here, thanks to the provision of new tools or a reinterpretation of customary ones, the user can spend quality time for his/her body and mind, to the point that the bathrooms become real private spas. If water, in its various forms, induces balance and well-being, the Private Wellness Lifestyle, aims to allow the consumer to exploit the potential of this precious element, and realize a "salus per aquam", health through water, daily, inside the bathroom.

The Private Wellness® Program.

The largest existing program for the creation of customized wellness experiences

The fast pace of daily life does not always allow us to devote time to a relaxing bath, and the customary practice has become to resort to a more practical shower, in which the user can access the well-being given by water by a simple touch. Indeed Gessi Private Wellness® gives life to this idea, as it proposes a design shower concept with advanced functions, aimed at creating a wellness corner or a personal Spa in one's own bathroom, although the collection boasts countless uses in professional spas Worldwide. The Gessi Private Wellness® Program represents the world's widest range of steel showerheads and shower elements for hydro massage, including rain showers, waterfalls and atomization. These modular elements can be freely composed, for a total customization of one's own shower, so to create a "private" wellness, designed according to one's own desires. The products of the Gessi Private Wellness® system stand out for their patented, innovative architectural aesthetic, the great attention to details of shapes and finishes, the facility of installation even in small spaces. The advanced functions are designed to be easily accessible and genuinely beneficial to the user. This is the result of very long research on the therapeutic, relaxing and energetic properties of light, an incorporeal element, and water, a fluid element. The outcome is a technology capable of enhancing the therapeutic properties of these two elements and produce not only scenographic effects, but above all emotion and well-being.

The Private Wellness® Company.

A creative philosophy that goes beyond product design and technology

There's much more to Private Wellness® than simply a program of modular elements for multifunctional showers, created to allow everyone to create fully customized spa corners for everyday use, in the most private environment of the house, the bathroom. Though Gessi has historically stressed on reinterpreting, reinventing and enriching this environment with style and new functions, Private Wellness® or private and personal well-being is in fact a concept that summarizes the whole creative philosophy of Gessi way beyond design and technology. in fact, Gessi is committed in thinking and proposing products that improve the users' lives, in an enlarged way to the point that the brand today embodies style, personalization (the company offers more than 6000 products), emotion, but also ethics. Believing that design is a good means for the representation and communication of values and ideas, not just creative ones, the company has focused on an "ethical" design characterized by new technologies, zero-impact production processes, new non-polluting materials. Even beyond that, Gessi engaged in the communication of ecological values, solidarity and sustainability with which it strives to respond to the concerns and needs of society: the environment, energy resources, new ways of living, new individual and collective needs. In other words, the whole business system reflects the aim to achieve the "private wellness" of individuals not only in their private habitat, the house, but also in the more extensive one: the planet. It is for this aspiration that today Gessi is known as the Private Wellness® Company.

Designing water is designing wellness

Gessi has gained world recognition as the "designer of water", through its offer of products that supply water in different fashions and mix it with air and light, making this precious element, the object of a totally enjoyable and customizable pleasure. Available in versions both built in the ceiling and exposed, the Afilo multifunction system has a very refined appearance. It is characterized by the insertion of a squared, round or rectangular showerhead into an elegant carter. This latter creates a charming slot that runs around the showerhead, from where white or coloured light diffuses. The complex boxed structure makes the head look suspended, like floating in the air. Light emission has been painstakingly studied to maximize well-being in the user: the outer frame in very thin steel and inclined inner walls enhance the diffusion of light in the whole shower space maximizing its emotional power.

Gessi home therapy: A personal day spa in one's own home

Gessi's philosophy of Private Wellness® Company, supports a new vision of the bathroom, which goes beyond the outmoded function of a merely practical place. It is rather transformed into a "wellness room". As such the bathroom becomes a place that combines function and emotionality; where each user can take care of his/her "self" not only from a hygienic point of view, but also and above all from an emotional point of view, to the point that the bathroom approaches the essence of a personal day SPA.

Water takes center stage in the project

Through a wide range of products that distribute water in different ways, illuminate it, contain it and furnish the environment devoted to it, Gessi has made this precious element, the object of a creative interior design. Overturning the traditional construction practice, Gessi made the taps, from a final and purely functional complement of the bathroom, into the starting point for both the stylistic and functional design of this environment. Placing the water at the center of the project, Gessi opens the way to the most complete freedom in the design of the bathroom's hydraulic plant, with unprecedented floor, wall and ceiling taps.

The body for a greater part is an outward expression of what happens in the mind, in the subconscious and in the spirit of each individual. The simultaneous care of the physical body and the mental state, gives the individual a special impulse of energy as it mobilizes its internal healing mechanism to greater activity. Water, the essence of life itself, is the environment in which we have been created and of which, for the most part, we are constituted. It stands as the only natural element capable of involving all the senses and giving ourselves, at different stages of our development, from newborns to adults, a total and profound well-being by acting on the imbalances connected to the experiences of everyday life.

Listen.

Water does not only affect the body through contact, as it also does by means of auditory sensations. The sound of water is comparable to white noise, a range of random frequencies of constant amplitude, which have positive effects on human biology. Products with different designs set at different heights and delivering water by different functions produce different sounds in the whole range of modulations from the vigorous showers of the showerheads, to the light and delicate rustling of nebulizers, to the suffused crackling of the waterfalls. These acoustic variations alternate or combine in multiple harmonies that induce states of mental well-being.

Colouring of the outer box

Afile provides that the outer surface of the boxing typical of le design be in a white steel. This surface can be rendered – using waterproof paint – in any desired colour.

57603_57018

Ø 14" exposed shower system with chromotherapy effect and finishing cover.

Hand length wellness

All the functions of the shower are commanded through a multifunction thermostatic mixer block of greatly intuitive use. This latter is built in the wall, behind the exterior plaque. The thermostatic block has a series of outlets, which distribute water to the various functions of the shower, i.e. lateral body jets, lateral atomization jets, hand shower, showerhead, cascade spouts, etc., at temperature pre-set via the thermostatic command.

A noble material for such a precious element as water : steel

Stainless steel, a noble, long lasting material of great beauty, enhances, with simplicity and essential refinement, the creations of the Gessi Private Wellness® Program.

Few materials can boast a resistance similar to steel, which never, in any environmental condition, loses its brilliance, impeccable elegance, rich and deep colour, while also requiring minimal maintenance. The steel of the Gessi Private Wellness® program reaffirms the concept of "Design for Nature" so dear to the company: 100% recyclable, steel can in fact be regenerated and recycled indefinitely, allowing to reduce the consumption of natural resources.

The technology of wellness remotely controlled light

The new Gessi Private Wellness® remote control allows the user to choose the light intensity and colour tone among 36 different shades.

The essential high-tech beauty of a pure form

Gessi's technological and stylistic research proposes a substantial aesthetic and technological upgrade of the shower along with a large range of innovative, amazing products. Matter, form and function sublimate themselves in the Gessi Private Wellness® Program, a concept in which the archetypal signs of Gessi design, the circle, the square, the rectangle, generate objects with an elegant and empathic presence. Minimali are a family of shower heads that offer advanced wellness functions in refined essential designs. They set themselves like jewels with functional use, in the environments dedicated to the wellbeing provided by water.

Water feeling

The double density in the distribution of the nozzles on the showerheads surfaces, a central waterfall slit, atomizers positioned in ergonomic positions ensure a most intense perception of water during a shower and real wellness feeling.

See.

The sight of water always awakens feelings of deep pleasure, as it evokes positive moods and visceral emotions. At an unconscious level, in fact, water is a symbol of purity, an emotional anchor that brings out the best feelings of our experience, from the very first moments of our existence in the womb. The crystallinity of water brings to light the real essence of things and drives us to introspection, in a search for our deepest identity.

The wellbeing of water, light and colour, the emotion of design

Refreshing waterfalls or soft rains, invigorating hydro massage or delicate atomization: springing water always suggests something special. The transparent charm of water elevates the design of those objects that release, through simple gestures, the strength of its timeless flow. Lighting radiations of different frequencies - the colours - play an important role in the creation of particular moods or mental states. Selectable and adjustable water jets, together with the exciting chromo therapy provided by special LEDs incorporated in the products, provide a pleasant multisensory stimulation. The Colour showerheads of the Gessi Private Wellness® Program combine functional, aesthetic and technical perfection: technology of the highest level incorporated into objects of absolute beauty.

Marvel.

Water coupled with light and colour can have important beneficial effects on well-being. Different colours, which are specific wavelengths of electromagnetic energy, or - very simply - light, seen through our eyes, affect our feelings, moods and emotions. In general, warm colours such as red, orange and yellow are stimulating and energetic; instead cold colours such as blue, violet or green, have soothing and relaxing properties. Moreover each individual assigns specific colours subjective meanings based on unconscious associations deriving from emotional sedimentations of lived experiences.

Colour led of last generation

Harmonic links between emotions

The search for personal fulfilment alters our relationship with our homes, leading us to redevelop the functional spaces of our living areas. In fact, by stressing on aesthetic, tactile, fragrance connections between objects, Gessi designs involve all of the senses thereby allowing the user to enjoy personal spaces that offer a new sense of well-being, a daily wellness experience in which to celebrate a renewed contact with one's inner self.

Architecture and technology in the modern bathroom

Today, due to the concentration of technology, available materials and possibilities of expression, bathrooms occupy a significant percentage of a housing project. For this environment Gessi experiments with new design languages that often draw their origins from the "living" room type of settings, or domesticate professional tools used in other contexts. For the bathroom, this has resulted in the advanced features in the Private Wellness Program shower system, which provide the benefits and treatments of a private spa within the home itself.

Water nebulized in the air, the other vital element, generates a further world of palpable sensations. Breathing in the freshness of the subtle vapors that water disperses in the air is inebriating. Water contains vital elements that keep our body healthy and releases negative ions into the air when it is atomized. Negative ions increase the flow of oxygen to the brain, influence the mood and mental energy, clean the air and promote a sense of tranquility and inner peace.

A personal and private corner to enjoy moments dedicated to oneself

Today real luxury regards taking care of oneself, regaining equilibrium and it leads to praise intimate moments as those really essential to life. Luxury stands in the quantity and quality of time dedicated to oneself in personal spaces where to live and enjoy moments of indulgence to relaxation, intimacy, rebalancing and energies recovery. Personal needs, from strictly functional, become increasingly connected to the sphere of self-satisfaction.

Gessi Goccia Collection

Touch activated sensation

Colour therapy and colour psychology

As an alternative to the remote control, the chromo therapy function of the Colour showerheads can be activated and controlled by means of a digital keypad. This can be installed both inside and out the shower enclosure. With a simple touch on the power button, the system starts an automatic chromo therapy cycle with a circular sequence from white light to warm colours, followed by colder shades. Each colour stands for about 13 seconds.

The "colour" digital key also allows the user to select a specific fixed colour of his choice by successive pressures and to return to the automatic cycle if desired.

A pressure on the "ON / OFF" key controls the dimmer function, which allows to vary the light intensity of the LEDs, keeping the selected colour unchanged.

Chromo therapy is an ancient discipline, known since ancient Egypt, laying on the premise that colours have important effects on body and mind equilibrium. From a physical point of view, the coloured light rays are a form of energy able to penetrate the human body in different ways, stimulating certain energy channels and benefiting specific internal organs. Due to the association with the natural elements different hues represent (blue-water, orange-sun, green-nature, etc.) or unconscious associations deriving from lived experiences, colours have strong psychological implications and considerable emotional resonance with the individuals.

The possibility that the Private Wellness systems offer to choose a fixed colour, or a chromatic scale in succession, allows each user to combine light, colour and water functions, in personalized formulas that produce the desired effects simply by following one's own tastes and instinct.

Here, in short, the distinctive characteristics of the main colours of the Private Wellness spectrum according to colour therapy and colour psychology

Colours

Red.

Red is an intense colour, and defines many emotions and moods. This colour represents energy and is especially stimulating for the senses, igniting courage, attention, excitement, creativity, action.

The extraordinary in the customary

Gessi conceives its creations with the ambition that design, with its ability to infuse an art content in consumer products, and the technology incorporated in it, will enrich the living spaces, making everyday gestures special and unique. In fact, Gessi projects spring from creative freedom and a passion for objects liberated from prescribed and encoded functions and reinvented for new uses: empathetic, friendly and enjoyable bathroom furnishings. Objects that improve people's lives.

Gessi 316 Collection

Celebrating the pleasure of water. In the most natural way

In the diversity of nature's watery grace, waterfalls with their graceful patterns and awesome geometric shape present a reassuring sense of order and healthfulness. Their intrinsic aesthetic qualities improve the mood and especially relaxation comes from water producing motion, sound and fresh ionized air in its free fall. Besides these emotional features, waterfalls produce a beneficial deep tissue massage on the shoulders and neck or ankles. The eye gracing Cascata Collection of the Private Wellness Program®, bring the sensations of these incredible natural wonders within the private bathroom for a daily enjoyment, and they even enhance the awe of waterfalls with stunning, very diverse designs, and, in some models. with embedded shining lights.

Rediscover.

Every approach to wellness operates through the senses to reach the essence of our "self". The contact with water brings back to memory and the body ancestral sensations, experienced in moments of profound balance with the surrounding environment. The various elements of the Private Wellness® Program combine the beauty of design, high technology and the millenary spirit of Salus per Aquam (health through water). By enhancing the multisensory and enveloping properties of water, they renew the contents of an experience that goes beyond hygiene, and becomes physical and emotional. To abandon oneself to the suggestions of the experience of water means to recover personal states of harmony and to regain the lost contact with nature and its cycles.

The magic of Tremillimetri

Tremillimetri shower is made in stainless steel processed for maximum reflective power with a mirror finishing. Water is distributed to the silicon anti-limestone nozzles of the showerhead through a concealed pipe, which is partially removable (for maintenance purposes) and partially made of a flat carter fixed to the terminal section of the shower shelf through screws. This carter can be opened and inspected upon necessity. The duct allows for an ecofriendly distribution of 14 litres of water per minute with perfect functionality of the shower.

The whole duct system has been devised so that it is not visible from behind the shower and water seems to pour magically from the ultra-thin steel sheet.

Product research aimed at reducing environmental impact

In recognition of its responsibility towards society as a whole, Gessi engages in granting excellence in the social and environmental impact of its products, both during their production and their use on behalf of the final consumer. This aim is pursued through innovations aimed at developing designs of exceptional aesthetic levels, using materials of the highest quality with the guarantee of meticulous Italian workmanship, and improving the safety and sustainability of the products and the production processes using innovative technical and technological solutions. Research is also dedicated to optimizing energy and water use, eliminating pollution and promoting more environmentally friendly consumption and lifestyle models in the users of the Gessi creations. This special attention is summarized in the Company's motto "made with love", which means creating products with a soul.

The design of water The sound of wellness

Hi-Fi, the latest creation by Gessi, is the new frontier of its Private Wellness® Program. The iconic name of this collection outlines the inspiration drawn from the history of the acoustic engineering for high fidelity stereo systems. These cult, trendy products represent a hallmark in the history of design and technology, and today they come to define the extraordinary aesthetics of the new Gessi product. In fact, Gessi Hi-Fi features the same clean and essential lines and the same sharp and harmonious volumes of those systems. Successes as those things that stand the test of time, are an inexhaustible source of ideas and perspectives that leave a trace in the imagination of each of us. High-fidelity stereo systems are a prime example of this. Born in the last century around the sixties, they have, for the first time, guaranteed a musical listening experience faithful to the original and without precedent for quality and purity; they indeed brought about a revolution in technology and created a new world of values and emotions

Design.

Hi-fi by Gessi is a friendly, accurate, responsive, discreet, elegant interface for wellness through water. A sophisticated technical and aesthetic research conducted by Gessi in the groove of excellence, led the Company to integrally reinterpret the original design the hi-fi analogic music systems of the '80s and '90s with the aim to transfer their look and feel into the intimate and relaxing atmospheres of the Private Wellness® universe. Once iconic equipment for reproducing music with exceptional quality, these stereo systems become - through the creative lens of design - innovative shower mixers that revolutionize the very conception of this tool. These catchy designs seem to invite to abandon to the natural tones of water, indeed to the very sound of wellness. The typical pleasure of taking your time for choosing the right track, the comfort of manual fine tuning and the relaxation drawn from listening to your favorite music are all good feelings that Gessi Hi-Fi revive in the intimacy of the bathroom. Here, surrounded by the harmonic rhythms of water, the time dedicated to oneself becomes an extraordinary experience of Private Wellness®. Thanks to innovative architectural geometries of sculptural inspiration, Gessi Hi-Fi manages to blend rigorous minimalism of line with incomparable functional ergonomics. These mixers give new life to an iconic, unforgettable object of the lifestyle of the past century preserving a timeless style that made history.

A shower with atomization. Indulgence meets ethical behaviour

The Gessi Private Wellness® atomizers are as fashionable as functional. In fact, a mist cycle uses much less water and energy than a standard shower, allowing for a major saving in water and energy consumption per year, while delivering all the indulgence of a relaxing mist.

An awesome water-saving spray shower allows for enjoying a guilt-free shower while doing something good for the environmental cause and proves it is possible to indulge while contributing to a greater good.

Wellbeing in details: shower sets

Each hand shower of the sets is made from steel of a specific thickness. This simultaneously guarantees lightness, strength and durability. The core of the showerhead is made of plastic; even this latter is manufactured by Gessi using special machinery, and is designed to insulate the hand shower in order to prevent the metal from being heated even with very hot water.
